

Fitness SF

Industry: Fitness Features: Live Chat

Background

Bryj, the low code, rapid development platform worked with Fitness SF to make their crucial, and unexpected, shift to a mobile app.

The Challenge

- Connecting the fitness audience to interactive live classes and one to one sessions.
- Creating engaging human interactions across any device by quickly connecting employees, partners, and customers with one single button.

The Solution

- Delivered In-app Video call & live-stream features for personal training and classes.
- Created In-App Scheduler Booking System for contact tracing and social distance.
- Built a new In-App BOPIS feature so customers buy online & pick-up in store.
- Implemented new In-App chat to ensure staff stay connected to customers via a personalized conversational experience.
